2024

1:15pm-
2:30pm ET

Conference
Room A, UNHQ
New York

On the occasion of the 62nd Session of the Commission on Social Development, this official side event seeks to explore:

- The consequences of upholding social policies which commodify people, place, and planet
- The connection between social exclusion, poverty, and climate injustice
- The transformative policies (e.g., in housing, poverty alleviation, climate displacement) needed to create unconditional inclusion and belonging and foster social justice

In-person only. Registration required.
